I attended class on April 15. I learned a lot, especially about having a "dictator" in the programming arena. I did not share any of my work-related anecdotes; manufacturing war stories would have been interesting to 5 people. Maybe.